The Values of Inclusion

All the work carried out by Circles Network is underpinned by a strongly held set of values and beliefs known as the values of inclusion. This philosophy, where all people, regardless of ability, are seen to be citizens of worth, drives us in our mission to support.

- Everyone has a voice and the right to be heard.
- All people have dreams and aspirations.
- All people have capabilities and qualities.
- All people should have power and control over what they do now and in the future.
- The whole community can benefit from embracing diversity.
- All people should have the opportunity to lead ordinary and valued lives.
- All people have the right to live and be part of the community.
- All people need friendships and independent relationships; a natural support network.
- All means All.

Essential Tasks and Responsibilities

The main duties and responsibilities of the post are as follows:

- To provide independent advocacy to individuals, in compliance with the Mental Health (Care and Treatment) (Scotland) Act 2003 and other relevant legislation and guidelines including the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000.
- To maintain and operate within professional advocacy standards in accordance with advocacy guidelines and to ensure that all individuals are supported to advocate in their own right, including the safeguarding of rights relating to those individuals defined as not having capacity/insight.
- To promote awareness of statutory rights and resources available to individuals using Circles Network support.
- To adopt flexible, person-centred approaches to advocacy which meet the needs of each individual.
- To ensure that the rights of individuals are recognised, respected and upheld.
- To actively seek and identify ways in which to engage particularly vulnerable and isolated individuals.
- To maintain accurate and up to date records in a clear and concise manner with strict adherence to confidentiality and data protection policy.
- To source and provide relevant information on a range of services that the individual may wish to access.
- To contribute to the ongoing development of the advocacy role through participation in training, research, and professional development within Circles Network and other appropriate external agencies.
- To contribute to the communication and planning processes within Circles Network through meetings, planning groups etc.
- To organise the administration of work undertaken ensuring efficient, accurate filing with the help of an administrator.
- To ensure good time management.
- To produce and contribute to written reports on work relating to the project.
- Any other tasks commensurate with the work of the project in agreement with your line manager and the Chief Executive.
